ANOTHER PLOT

Zimmermann Said To Have Been Involved In

New York, Mar. 19.—A diplomatic mistake by Brazil, Peru, Chile, and Argentina are now threatening Zimmermann, of Berlin, Germany, for the first time ever been in regard to any agreement he ever entered with the German government. An alleged plot to ferment a revolution on the other side of the ocean failed in Latin America, but the purpose of the storm is rapidly failing before a new one. A friend Zimmermann, of Brazil, is visiting before a new one, the German foreign office, in their plan, with the recommendation that financial aid be given to the rebels in Paraguay, which until recently were believed to be rather partial to Germany's cause, are as independent as Holland. Neither modern traps have been arrayed against him, it is a world-wide antipathy. —Louisville Post.

AGENT WANTED.

We need an agent to give whole or part time to the sale of our high grade NORTHERN GREENING trees and shrubs in Crittenden County. Do not confuse our advertisement with those of the average run of agency advertisers. We are positively the largest growers of nursery stock in the world and have been doing business for over 60 years. 1500 acres under cultivation. Millions of trees and shrubs. Your opportunity to sell is unlimited.

THE GREENING NURSERY CO., MONROE, MICHIGAN

Shake Off That Grip

When Spring comes, with its changeable weather and your exposure, it is best to clear away all the symptoms left after an attack of grip. That evil disease leaves you weakened, and when its victim attempts to "do his bit" he exposes himself to the risk of a second attack, for which he is less prepared, and which may have graver consequences.

There's Danger in Delay

April and May are pneumonia months. In this time a weakened system is a constant source of danger, for the pneumonia and grip infections are in the air, and after a long winter the body is so clogged with waste it cannot resist them. Fortify the health, remove the catarrh, and improve the digestion.

For Quick Relief PERUNA

This reliable tonic is recommended to remove the waste from the body, counteract the catarrhal poisons and alay the inflammation that is catarrh, restore the regular appetite and tone up the entire system to resist disease. A well man is safe.

As a tonic after grip it has with many commendations, while its effectiveness in catarrhal conditions is unquestioned. Take no chances—Take Peruna.

Peruna Tablets are always ready to take. You may carry a box with you and ward off colds and chill. The liquid medicine in your home is a great safeguard. Protect your family.

The Peruna Company, Columbus, Ohio

SAVED LIVES OF CHICKENS

New York Man Makes a Feather Duster Substitute for a Hen.

Using a feather duster as a brooder to substitute for a cannibal hen, Sherry Elberle saves the lives of some of his chicks.

When Elberle is not busy as manager of the Postal Telegraph company he devotes his time to raising fancy chickens. When one of his hens was not busy scratching she gave her time to digesting some of the brood she had recently hatched.

Elberle noticed the chicks began to disappear. One by one they went until he discovered the hen's appetite was stronger than her mother love. A heavy ration of ground bone and hamburger steak didn't oppose her. She ate another.

Then with a canning he didn't expect to lose. If he threw the hen out, bought a big feather duster and suspended it in the coop. The chicks struggled among the feathers and are perfectly content with their hambone mother.

THROWS LIGHT 200 MILES

United States Navy Accuses Wonderfully Bright Invented by a German.

The United States navy has come into possession of one of the largest searchlights ever manufactured, by the result of the European war and the arrest of the German inventor of the searchlight at Liverpool, England. In 1914 Heinrich Boeck, the inventor who has been working in the field of the searchlight at Schenectady, was captured by the British to go to Belgium and Germany soon after the beginning of the European war. He then returned to the United States and entered negotiations which have led to the purchase of his patent rights by the government.

The new searchlight has a mirror five feet in diameter and sends out a violet white shaft of light which can be focused at a distance of 200 miles when the place conditions are good.

To Harness the Tides.

It is a project to be tried down in the Bay of Fundy, Nova Scotia, a developing company has made a survey on the water of the Bay of Fundy with a view of developing a power plant at Cape Split. An American expert on hydroelectric production of electricity is the scientific leader of the expedition. As Americans are too proud to develop such things as this, it is hard for power, it may be expected that this man on foreign soil has got results to wake up the rest of this country, says the United Telegraph. "The tides of the Bay of Fundy are as famous for their ups and downs as the revolutions of Mexico and Peru." A current under recently experienced in the Gaspe river was 12 feet high and 2½ feet high and is reported to have developed power as the tide rose which reached a maximum of two hours lower by the time the current was submersed. The later experiments at Cape Split are said to have shown a current developing 10 times greater than the former. As the machine is made like a clock, it takes advantage of the tide going out as well as coming in.

Naturally Surprised.

An old German furniture dealer and a woman customer who was a great talker. Nobody could get away from her when she started in. One day he sent a clerk to the lady's house to try to collect a bill. When the clerk returned empty handed, the old German said:

"Well! What did she say?" "She did not say anything, sir. She was tame," replied the clerk.

"What!" exclaimed the surprised German; "was she dead?"

Saving Money.

"A dollar box of candy for me, honey? Really, I must cut such extravagance."

"I bought you one frequently before we were married."

"But things are different now. Instead of a dollar box of candy it would have been better to have gotten me a ten-cent box, and a sports coat, and that purse I want so much."

Electrocuting Animals.

The Animal Rescue League has facilities for destroying as many as 300 animals in one hour. The diseased or homeless dog is placed in a cabinet, the floor of which is metal. A flexible metal collar is fastened around his neck, and then the electric current turned on. The operation takes but half a minute.

Scorn.

"Wasn't our friend's speech largely made up of platitudes?"

"No," replied Senator Borland. "He didn't say anything that was reliable enough even to be classed as a platitude."

Learning to Draw.

Gibbs—I hear that your boy is going to a drawing school.

Gibbs—You can call it that; he's attending a dental college.

Persiflage.

"To arrest the progress of the flames, suppose."

Kirk Sir:

I freely own statement this afternoon, I am very sorry I did not have my pen at hand, but think it very foolish for sending my usual paper on any way.

The town is growing some now. We are building a $700,000 hotel, a new and Palmetto factor, and new Electric & Ice plant. We had a freeze that we thought had done considerable damage, but things are coming out and I don't believe we are hurt much. Hoping you all pass, and a prosperous New Year, I remain,

WOODROW WILSON.

Woodrow Wilson today completed his first term as President of the United States.

No other four years except those of Lincoln have been so eventful, and no other four years except those of Lincoln have made so much history of first importance.

One may like Mr. Wilson or dislike him, approve his policies or detest them, but nobody can deny him a place among the masterful Presidents who have stamped their genius for all time upon the government of the United States. The courses of American history have been changed mightily by the fact that Woodrow Wilson was President, and because he has been President the processes of American Government will never again be quite what they were in the past.

Whatever the verdict of his story may be upon the various policies of the Wilson Administration, no difficulty will be experienced in fixing the responsibility. Since March 4, 1913, Mr. Wilson has been the Government of the United States to as great a degree as Jefferson or Jackson, and in even a greater degree than Washington or Lincoln.

Mr. Taft was never President during his four years in the White House; the Republican Party was President. Mr. Roosevelt was President part of the time during his two terms; the Republican Old Guard was President part of the time, and there were glorious intervals in which Wall Street reigned supreme, after the manner of Frederick the Great, who did what he pleased and allowed his subjects to say what they pleased. Mr.

Roosevelt played the role as definite for his party of its own as never ventured to forgo it as a substitute for his, nor has any Republican member of Congress ever introduced a war resolution to force the President's Party, not Wall Street, out of the yard, although the power to declare war is exclusively prerogative of Congress.

The chief complaint of Mr. Wilson's critics is that he is not belligerent, that he is not warlike, that he is too proud to fight. His warlike qualities are few, but his political enemies alternately as a soldier and a statesman, and he has been his power to impress his political menace to the public if these extraordinary gifts were supplemented by military ambition and a passion for military glory. It was the great good fortune of the United States in the Civil War that it had Abraham Lincoln for President, all of whose principles and habits of government were incorrigibly civilian. Thus a President who might have made himself an absolute military dictator held steadfastly to the creed of the Illinois country lawyer, and that creed was the creed upon which all the foundation stones of the Republic rest. It is still the great good fortune of the United States that in the darkest crisis of modern history it has a President with the unquenchable passion for justice and liberty, who looks upon military power only as the instrument of civil power and worships no gods of conquest or imperialism.

If the world, after this war, is to be re-established upon the basis of democracy, the political principles of Woodrow Wilson must prevail. Nothing else can save it. On the verge of the crisis, when it is inevitable that the United States must draw the sword in defense of its rights and its honor, the American people can face the future in supreme confidence that they will enter the war under a leadership that knows no superior purpose, a leadership that is wise and sagacious and self-restrained and that will safe-guard republican institutions as the most precious possession of mankind.

No other American is so well fitted by temperament, by training, by ability and by mastery of the science and art of government to plumb blindfold into war he could give no reason for this state of public opinion except that President Wilson had chloroformed the conscience of the country. In other words 100,000,000 people had been so hypnotized by the President that they thought only what he wanted them to think, believed only what he wanted them to believe and did only what he wanted them to do. A superman above all other supermen in history, yet it is not true. Mr. Wilson's influence over public opinion lies in the ability to understand it, and give it adequate expression, not in the ability to dictate a nation's sentiments.

Nevertheless Mr. Wilson has exercised a greater influence over the political thought of the American people, over the political thought of the whole world, for that matter, than any other man of his generation. He has become in a way the universal spokesman of democracy and a universal leader of democracy. When Europe speculates as to what the United States thinks or what the United States will do, it asks what Mr. Wilson thinks and what Mr. Wilson will do.

Even his bitterest enemies are compelled to acknowledge this extraordinary intellectual power. When Mr. Roosevelt indulged in his outbursts of foam and fury at the general reluctance of the American people to plunge blindfold into war he could give no reason for this state of public opinion except that President Wilson had chloroformed the conscience of the country. In other words 100,000,000 people had been so hypnotized by the President that they thought only what he wanted them to think, believed only what he wanted them to believe and did only what he wanted them to do. A superman above all other supermen in history, yet it is not true. Mr. Wilson's influence over public opinion lies in the ability to understand it, and give it adequate expression, not in the ability to dictate a nation's sentiments.

In all the attacks they have been directed against his foreign policies, it is a singular fact that the Republican opposition has

Loyd's Brain Leaks.

Albert Elder says, Before you get her she always has something she wants to talk to you about, but after you get her she always wants to talk to you about something she hasn't got.

Oscar Hibbs says, Some women are so fat that the only things they can wear ready-made are a hand bag and an umbrella.

Uncle Gus Bentley says, If you want to know something that some other man knows, never ask him about it. Just let him talk while you do the listening and he'll be sure to spell what you want to find out.

Taylor Stokes says, The reason why a girl doesn't mind getting married to a strange man, is because she simply can't get used to living in the same house with a step-father.

RUSSIA CALLS FOR MISSOURI SHOES.

St. Louis, Mar 15.—American made shoes are much in demand in Russia; that nearly 40,000 pairs are shipped monthly from St. Louis. All are of the better grades, none being furnished to the army.

Archangel, only western Russian port, has been isolated since November so St. Louis shoes are shipped over the Pacific to Kobe, Japan, thence over the Japan sea to Vladivostok, whence they are sent in fibre boxes, each holding four pairs, to their destination, by parcel post, transit taking two months or more.

Shipping charges are reasonable for pieces are almost double those here. C. M. Chavez, manager of the foreign department of a shoe company which ships monthly twenty to thirty thousand pairs of shoes sold here at $1 to $7, say they bring $8 to $12 in Moscow.

Freight to Vancouver on 10,000 pairs of shoes, said Chavez, is $675. From Vancouver to Vladivostok the charge is $1,327, and from there to Moscow postage is $750. The fibre boxes cost 25 cents each, adding $125 to the cost of such a shipment.

Str. Dorothy Quits E'town

The new Steamer Dorothy built for the run from here to Paducah daily, has discontinued the run from Goleanda to Elizabethtown. The extra trip to this point necessitates the employing of an additional crew for the boat and the business would not justify the expense. The run from Goleanda to Paducah and back can be made in the regulation time of the employment of a single crew, and it was the intention of the builders and Captain McCandless when the boat was being constructed to make her speedy enough to continue the run on this point, but it was impossible.—Elizabethtown Independent.

THE FARMER'S BOY.

The sun went down beyond the hills,

Across a dreary moor,

windy and lame, a boy there came

Up to a farmer's door.

"Will you tell me if any there be

That will give me employ."

To plow and sow and to reap and mow

And be a farmer's boy."

The mistress said, "Pray take the lad,

No farther let him seek."

"Oh, yes, dear father," the daughter cried,

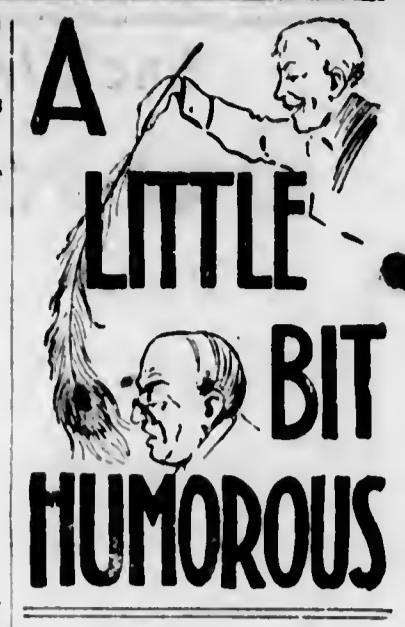

While tears ran down her cheek,

"For those that will work, 'tis hard to want."

And to wander for employ,

To plow and sow, to reap and mow

And to be a farmer's boy."

The Difficult Part.

"This motion picture comedian has to work hard."

"Why, it isn't such hard work to fall into mud puddles, have pies smeared on your face, be run over by a street sweeper and receive the contents of a hour barrel on your head."

"I know it, but think how much trouble it must be for him to get cleaned up every evening in time for dinner."

A Negligent Patriot.

"There is a stout party worker."

"So they say."

"You ought to hear his wife speak."

"Yes?"

"She says it would work for the party to make the party less popular. I mean, I have to run in boardings houses."

The Practical Side.

"I've noticed the people for sale seem to be the best of the lot."

"I hope I'm the one you mean."

"So far, I've noticed the few best of the bunch are the ones who are practical."

"I know it, but I'm not the only one."

"I'm afraid you're right. For the time being, I'm staying at the same place I've been staying at."

At the Opery House.

In the lobby of the opera house, a man is talking to another man.

"I presume you are a member of the opera house?"

"Yes. At the moment I am not, but I may be again."

THE IDEA.

"Yes, I've had in mind for four years."

"And you haven't been doing anything?"

"Nothing? Well, I should say not, I've got a lot to do."

Just So!

When a young man proposes to a girl, he usually says, "Just so."

Trade Behind.

"Is it better to be the head of a family?"

"He has a wife and several children."

If that is what you mean, and he heads the family procession when buying novelties in a motion picture show, but in all other times his place is in the rear."

Domestic Duties.

"My Mr. and Mrs. DeStyle would be only too glad to have a skeleton in their family closer."

"My—You needn't say!"

"Gee, I think they had one, but it escaped last week."

Dividing Responsibility.

"So you live in a bungalow on your lot in the country?"

"Not altogether."

"Not altogether?"

"The architect made the bungalow. I get the oven part."

Realistic Touch.

"What's the dancer doing now?"

"She's fortifying the advance of autumn."

"I see. And those young women following her are, I presume, milliners' assistants."

Sure.

"Do you subscribe to the theory that love is a decided religion?"

"No," replied the sleek young person. "But I believe love should be able to stand the field test."

Artless Art.

"It strikes me," said the critic, "that you are inclined to discourage art."

"That's right," rejoined the "movie" director. "I find it pays better to give the people what they want."

"TANLAC SMILE" GREETS FRIENDS

Old Hotel Man Tells How He Got Back Good Humor.

"TANLAC DID IT," HE SAYS

"You're sure looking good these days. What'd you get the smile?" That's the way his friends now greet Joseph Koltz, who lives at the Sherman Hotel in Cincinnati. Mr. Koltz was in the hotel business in Cincinnati for 20 years and is well known over Ohio and Kentucky.

That's why "Tanlac," John and Ira, after I told him he was a "rundown system," Mr. Koltz says:

"But I couldn't always smile this way." Mr. Koltz said. "For several years I was not looking up a strong of money in my throat. It made me tired, because I didn't get rid of it. It got on my nerves, too, and kept me awake nights."

Began Losing Weight.

"My stomach went look on me, and naturally I lost my appetite. I couldn't eat much without being sick afterwards. I suffered from bloating and belching gas after eating. I had no time, heavy feeling, too, and it seemed as if I just had to drag myself around. When I began to eat down on my meals I started to lose weight, too, and my friends got worried about me."

One of them suggested that I try Tanlac and I did. I am glad to say that it helped me back to health. I've got a new and appetitive now and can eat anything I want without suffering afterwards. I don't have that heavy feeling in my stomach after meals. My food digests without any trouble and I know it is because Tanlac has fixed me up."

Glad to Praise Tanlac.

"I am glad to pass the good word to anyone who is suffering like I did. I know Tanlac will do them real good. It sure fixed me up!" "What?" why I wear me this Tanlac smile?"

THE FARM FLOCK.

in this day of advancement in pure bred herds, cattle, hogs and sheep, why not improve the poultry on the same plan?

I sincerely believe after taking this consideration the amount of things I can do by the hen that no other stock will eat and the vast amount of money brought in from the sale of eggs, chickens, turkeys, ducks, etc., to say nothing of the fine fresh eggs and chickens in abundance for home consumption, will pay the farmer a greater profit than any other stock.

I may have, considering the amount invested and the cost and care of keeping up this farm, why not give more care and attention to the important industry? On the average farm you will as a rule fall in lack of knowledge, a regular market demand for "With hogs, cattle and other stock the pure bred yield a far greater financial loss, cost for maintenance, mature flocks, and take in flesh, taste than the embryo."

I take it that these facts will not be disputed. All up to date farmers attest to these statements by the pure bred and grade stock they keep. In fact you rarely ever see a scribbler and of any kind on their farms.

The same has been fully demonstrated with poultry, yet you will hear farmers and not infrequently their good wives, say, "I have better success with a mixed flock." Now how can that be? It is not true in the dairy business for who in that business would select a herd of cows of all breeds and use different kinds of males, even pure serbils? Neither is this true of the hog and sheep business. Now there is a reason for this erroneous idea, a farmer's wife will buy a good brood of rooster and allow him to run with mixed hens and scrub roosters, the results of such a purchase would be unsatisfactory, of course. But suppose we try different method, buy few good roosters from a reliable breeder and in many settings of eggs as you may also from pure bred stock. Sell the meager stock, too, mark the chicks with a punch made for the purpose (price 25 cents), keep a record of these too-marked chicks, keep the best of them together with the half-bred pullets you raise for your next year's brood. Mate them to some good roosters (the same roosters you already have if you like, as this mating will be right).

Sell the old hens and the older pullets. The second year you will need new hens, cut your flock, buy what rooster stock you need of the same breeder you bought from first year in 1916, expect due the 1st day of Dec., 1916, and all the new for 1917, will be issued as of January the first 1917, and to expire December 31st 1917, so that those that do not take out their license until later, will pay for the full year, and any person running or operating an automobile without first obtaining a license so to do, and have the license tag and number on his automobile as required by law, will be prosecuted and fined for each and every offense, and each day should be deemed a separate offense.

Mr. G. Campbell, the state Agent of Automobiles, has recently been in our City, and gave the Officer's orders that the law must be enforced strictly the present year, so please let every person interested, take notice govern themselves accordingly, and save cost and trouble.

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY'S STATEMENT

K. R. R. for Rheumatism Helped Him and His Friends — Got Wonderful Results

Rheumatism can be cured and is being cured every day. Today K. R. R. is relieving the agonizing pain of immediate rheumatic suffering who wisely took the advice of those that K. R. R. has cured and are being cured themselves. Read this proof of the power of K. R. R. and get cured.

Testimony of the value of a cure is given by men in prominent places only after actual experience and careful deliberation; remember this while reading the following letter by an eminent North Carolina lawyer:

"Several years ago I was a sufferer from rheumatism. I tried a number of remedies without relief. I was induced to try Kampfmeuller's Rheumatism Remedy, and did so with very satisfactory results. I had such good results that a number of my friends who were afflicted with the same trouble came to me to know what I had taken for it. They all tried it with wonderful results." — THOMAS WELD, G. #### Notice to Automobilists

To All who is an operator of automobile's are hereby notified and will take notice, that all license for running car or operating automobiles for the year 1916, expiring the 1st day of Dec., 1916, will all be new for 1917, will be issued as of January the first 1917, and to expire December 31st 1917, so that those that do not take out their license until later, will pay for the full year, and any person running or operating an automobile without first obtaining a license so to do, and have the license tag and number on his automobile as required by law, will be prosecuted and fined for each and every offense, and each day should be deemed a separate offense.

The following is a statement which I depend largely on what you mean to promote. Fresh meat and eggs are what you want to eat, one of the medium breeds, Brandy, Wyandots, L. L. Ross or Barred Rocks. The latter breeds, in my opinion, are the best all round birds for the farmer, however, if eggs are what you want I don't think you will make a mistake if you select the White Leghorn. They stand in the egg world where the Jersey cow stands in the butter world.

The speaker way perhaps be build up as he's going to select the variety you have the most of, for instance, if you have a greater number of Reeks, select them, or of Wyandots, select them.

Now you have the flock on paper, the next is housing and care. The up-to-date farmer has good warm comfortable barns for his stock, with an abundance of good suitable feed, sufficient holding the position she has in the commercial world must be furnished with good warm dry houses, made tight on two ends and the north side while the south side should have plenty of openings. Plans for building such houses may be had for the asking by writing to U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

The greater part of the feed necessary to feed aside from what they pick can be raised on the farm at a very small cost. For grain feed, plant barley, milo maize, a small plot of wheat or oats, lousy to the poultry yards to be harvested by the fowls.

For green feed stock, hogs or table debts may have an excellent winter feed.

Now further if you will please to the house, plant the grain and raise it. The average farmer's wife will provide the necessary fowls. Why the satisfaction the women get from a nice flock of birds, gathering the eggs and showing them to her friends is worth all costs, to say nothing of the numerous grocery bills and even laundry bills, hams, turkey, etc., to buy. Yes, I believe if you will provide the house, the good house wife will find a way to get the necessary sack and bags if he has to sell a few old unnecessary hens to get the money, and this is no bad idea possibly these old hens haven't laid an egg for years.

I may have something more to say on this subject later.

Respectfully,
J. R. CARTER.

May Be Changed.

When the railways of Japan were first planned the narrow gauge of 3 feet 5 inches was selected for them because it was easiest to build and equip and was thought best suited to the country's narrow highways and steep grades. Now the 6,000 miles of Japanese railways, all of narrow gauge, are found to be easily built the times, and a movement is on foot to rebuild them to the standard gauge, although the cost is estimated at

MONKEYS HAVE MOTOR CARS

New Craze Has Captured the Boardwalk Summer Girl at Atlantic City.

Toddy bear, No longer is the herefore much maligned lap dog industry's companion either in her motor car or on her walks. Into the discord has been thrust, hurriedly and whitewash ceremony, the come-doll of early summer popularity.

In their place has come the novelty produced by the combination of a toy motor car and a real, live, regular monkey, which the Atlantic City boardwalk's summer girl has brought into unexpected prominence both on the great wooden way and the bathing beaches, and once or twice in the glittering cabaret places that dot the boardwalk approaches. Apparently the craze for the Siamese exports is taking hold even more quickly than did that which marked the debut of the now all but forgotten Teddy.

Wrapped in garments that are humorously in accord with the exaggerated color scheme of this season's bathing costumes, the pets are being treated with increasing frequency in the afternoon parades along the boardwalk that forms the chief attraction for the resort's feminine contingent, and the monkeys seem to enjoy the outings.

AUTHOR WRONG IN HIS FACTS

There is an infinitely touching story in a magazine article by C. H. Grubbs on "Soldiers and Their Songs." It relates how a federal soldier during the American Civil war lay dying in a hospital and wished again to hear the national song. They sang him several recognized national airs, but none would satisfy him till someone struck up "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." "The dear boy," continues the author, "moaned to death, smiled his content and, turning his face to the wall, died happy."

We hate to shatter Mr. Grubbs' illusions, but as a matter of fact "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" only came into existence in the later nineties and was a favorite song among the United States troops during the war of 1898—London tube.

MUSIC WHILE YOU WORK.

A dry-cleaning establishment in Clarendon has come to the conclusion that if its employees hear music at frequent intervals while they work it will not only make them happier, more contented and better workers, but that they will accomplish more than if they were without it.

Working upon this theory, there have been installed throughout the big establishment enough phonographs to keep lively music playing most of the day.

The records are selected with care, best a funeral selection, a dreamy waltz or a sextet from "Liedchen" should do. There are many lively dance records and popular songs. The workers hum and sing to the lively music, and the speed of the music puts the speed into their work. Popular Science Monthly.

Painful to Think Of.

"I like you, Mr. Jiggers," said the giddy creature. "In fact, I like you very much, but before giving you my answer I must ask you—or whether or not your income would be compatible with my wants."

"In other words, you want to know whether or not I could support you?"

"Yes."

"But, surely your father would not be so kind as to cut off your allowance just when you would need it most?"

State Highway Law.

The New York supreme court has recently decided that, because a car was wrecked through carelessness in working upon a public highway, the state must be responsible. The court held that "any state that undertakes to maintain roads within its boundaries for the traffic of vehicles, thereby . . . assumes all responsibility for damage and losses which may be sustained by people using such roads."

Reason for Delay.

"Train's going rather slowly today, conductor, isn't it?" asked the conductor.

"Yes, considerably slower than usual," replied the conductor.

"What's the reason?"

"Well, you see, there are a lot of people on the train playing cards today, and they don't want to reach their stations before they finish the games."

Finding Fault.

"The pleasure is here seen to be an evident fact."

"Yes. They have little to complain of. However, I have discovered one minor who is discontented."

"What is it about?"

"He says the intramural literary clubs don't devote as much attention to them as they ought to the study of Brown Bag."

A Question of Adjectives.

Choice of adjectives is largely a matter of proportion. The American telephone report "a bloody battle" in Mexico; American casualties 37. I wonder how many times that number were killed by British and Russian in one day in skirmishes with us we don't even call single. — London Observer.

HOPKINSVILLE CHILDREN GET PLAYGROUND

Suit to Break The Will of W. A. Wilgus is Dismissed; Left $35,000 Estate.

The suit of Mrs. Sadie Wilgus Yeager, et al., or the numerous surviving relatives of the late W. A. Wilgus, to break the will of Mr. Wilgus and recover his estate, was dismissed without prejudice in circuit court this morning.

The motion to this effect was made by the attorneys for the plaintiffs and the costs of the action incurred up to this point will be borne by that side.

When Mr. Wilgus died his will left all his estate to his close friend, T. W. Long, so long as the latter should live. At Mr. Long's death the entire estate was to go to the city of Hopkinsville to be expended through the school board for public playgrounds for the children of the city. Mr. Long lived only a few weeks after the will was probated and his brother, George C. Long, was named as his executor, which made him in turn the executor of the Wilgus will also.

It was several months after the Wilgus will was probated before the suit of the relatives was filed. These were all distant relatives and the family relations had not been kept up, it is claimed. In the suit against Mr. Long and the city of Hopkinsville, these relatives claimed they were entitled to the estate and asked that the will be set aside and they be given the property.

The estate is valued at about $35,000.

Now that the case has been closed by the dismissal of the suit there is said to be no further burden to the school board proceeding to carry out the provisions of Mr. Wilgus' will and provide the playground for the children. Hopkinsville New Era

For fear that you didn't get the full meaning of the above paragraph, read it over again.

Don't think your sons is incurable because you have tried, and been imposed upon by any of so called patent medicines and healing oils, etc., and can of "Sura Cure" Ointment, known as Cross Salve, and try it at our expense. If it don't cure you, at least don't cost you any thing to try. Get a can to us, the cost is but a few cents. Sold by James Henry Jr., Marion Ky., Phone No. 123, P. O. Box 41.

Also sold by Haynes & Taylor, Marion, Ky. Price 25 and 50 cents per can.

M. T. Williams, Lenoir City, Tenn., was going to try to treated weekly by Dr. Wm. C. Williams, and was saved by the trial. He says:

"This is to certify that I have used "Sura Cure" ointment, made by Dr. Wm. C. Williams, and now what easier doctor you could find. I am here to say, I was thinking of going away, but when one of my friends advised me to try Dr. Wm. C. Williams' "Sura Cure" Ointment. And I did. IT BLEW MOVED THE CANCER."

I have tried it for other sores and would not be without it for $1.00. I have also heard of other persons using it, and all are well pleased, and speak highly of its curative powers.

Signed, M. T. Williams,

Clin. Ky.

FORD'S FERRY

Your correspondent has been requested to give his definition of the word "love," but he does not think there is any language which can adequately define the full meaning of that magic word. He will say this much, however, in regard to love: There is nothing more refining, more uplifting and inspiring, more corrective to happiness or mere pleasure, than the sight of God.

Paul Clegg was in Ford's Ferry Saturday and he agrees with the above full.

The river has been rising continually for many days and neighbors came to see if it will keep on rising for some time to come. There many people prove that the water will continue to rise, as far as the Mississippi River is concerned.

Florida Ferry, located across Franklin River, has been closed to traffic. Your car probably has to wait for a long time to get over. There many people prove that the water will continue to rise, as far as the Mississippi River is concerned.
